Hamlin People Have Bought $52,369.25 Series E-War Bonds

A check up on War Bonds sold in Hamlin area of Jones County shows that up to Thursday morning, $52,369.25 in E Bonds had been invested. The E Series quota is $137,500 so you can figure how much we lack meeting what is expected of us.

The overall quota for Hamlin is $210,100.00 and the overall purchases amount to $115,700, and so you can see how much of the grand total this community lacks.

Next week there will be some revealing figures for all of the units of the community.

NEINDA GOES OVER QUOTA

An evening of rally, with pies and cakes and entertainment, was held at Neinda Tuesday night. When they got through counting up bond sales, they had purchased $11,000.00 worth and that was $3,000.00 more than their quota. What a boost to our boys out in the Pacific, if Hamlin and all the rural communities would equal Neinda!

Next week, maybe other places will have something equally as good to report.

LET'S GET DOWN TO ACTION—this thing of finishing a terrible war with victory for liberty is as much a civilian's job as for the boys who are away from home, on the waves, in the air, or crouching in muddy foxholes. Buy another Bond, and don't let go what you have unless in a dire emergency. Look at a Pacific map and realize the mileage and the territory the Japs hold, or infest as a danger to the future of our country. THEN ACT!

Liberated Airman Writes From France

Dr. and Mrs. Paul Fowler were very happy to receive a letter Tuesday from their son, 2nd Lt. Robert L. Fowler, the first direct word from him since his liberation from Stalag Luft I, at Barth, Germany. The letter, on original V-Mail form, was dated May 20.

He said, "I left Barth on the morning of Mother's Day in a B-17. We circled Hamburg and Bremen and landed in France near Laon. We ate at a camp near Rheims. We traveled in a hospital train from Rheims to this camp which is near LHarve. While we wait for transportation home, we are well fed, and receive clothing."

Fowler said that the first day he was in the camp, May 14, he located all the sergeants of his crew, and all of them looked good. Then he added, "In fact, we are all getting fat on the chicken and eggs served here."

Newspapers and magazines, new or old, were in great demand as everyone was anxious to read up on all the time they missed. "You would be surprised," he said, "at the things that are new to us."

He told his parents they could expect him home soon—he didn't know exactly when, but soon. Fowler will get a 60-day leave and he said he

Receives Purple Heart Awarded Husband

PVT. LESLEY B. SHELburne

The Purple Heart which was awarded to Private Lesley B. Shelburne for wounds he received in his lower left arm while fighting near the German border on Feb. 19, 1945, has been received by his wife. A member of the 94th Division, he also holds the Combat Infantryman's Badge, and is now with the 15th Army in Germany.

Private Shelburne is a son of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Shelburne of Rankin, Texas. He is a graduate of Hamlin High School and attended John Tarlton Agricultural College in Stephenville. Prior to entering service, he was employed by Consolidated Aircraft in Fort Worth.

He entered the Army July 17, 1944, and took all of his training at Camp Fannin, Texas. Private Shelburne left for overseas duty in January 1945, landing in Belgium, where he immediately went into combat action.

His wife, the former Betty Myrle Routh, and their two sons, Lesley Bryan Jr., age four year, and Thomas David, eight months, are making their home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Routh, Rt. 1, during her husband's overseas duty.

Minister Mardell Lynch left Thursday by bus for Artesia, New Mexico, to begin a ten days meeting. His weekly messages will be mailed back to the Herald in the meantime, so watch for them.

Seldom does the one who really needs advice ask for it.

intended to make the most of it. And he added, "Please do not overwork trying to 'fix up' for me. I just want plain, old home."

Lieutenant Fowler, a member of the Eighth Air Force in England, was reported missing after a bombing raid over Germany Dec. 20, 1943. Later he was listed a prisoner of war, and was held in Stalag Luft I, a camp at Barth, Germany, near the Baltic, which was overrun by the Russians on May 3, 1945.

Texas Company Grants Special Leave To GI's

A special leave of absence will be granted to employees of the Texas Company who return from military service and who desire to take advantage of the service men's readjustment act of 1944 (the GI Bill) to pursue studies that will benefit them in their future association with the company, it was announced by W. S. S. Rodgers, Chairman of the Board of Directors. In addition, financial assistance in the form of loans, without interest, will be extended to these veterans in cases where the amount available under the law may be inadequate.

The leave is for one year, subject to extension at the end of each year, provided the employee is making satisfactory progress in his studies. This educational leave is available to any employee who had at least four months service with Texaco before entering military services.

Of more than five thousand employees of The Texas Company on military leave, twenty are from the Wichita Falls District. (Publicity Release.)

Methodist News Notes

Miss Shirley Baggett and Miss Naomi Ruth Young are attending the Methodist Youth Assembly at McMurry College this week. The assembly this year is offering courses in music, worship, life of Christ, the writings of Paul and evangelism and other courses of interest to young Christians. An additional attraction will be a picnic, possibly at Buffalo Gap, on Friday and the closing session Friday night.

A Vacation Bible School is being planned in our church for the near future. Further announcements will be made.

Our revival meeting will begin June 22, with Rev. C. E. Cargill, Presbyterian minister, at Italy, Texas, doing the preaching, and Mr. W. S. Thomson leading the singing.

RETURNS TO CALIFORNIA

Ira C. Fudge, Sr., left last Saturday for California after being in the Hamlin country since last February. His home is at Benicia, Calif., where he and some of his children have been in war work. Mr. Fudge received word that his son, I. C. Jr., age 19 years, a member of the Coast Guard at Port Chicago, was married to Miss Jeanne Franklin, formerly of Lubbock. Mr. Fudge has three daughters and two sons in California: Miss Evelyn works for the War Dept.; Miss Glenna is in high school; Mrs. Floyd Chase, whose husband is just back from overseas duty; Kirby in war work; and I. C. Jr. in the Coast Guard. So after all, with so many of his children in that state, why not return? However, there is another son, Tollie Fudge in Hanover, N. H., a student in Seabee construction. This family has a good farm in the Flat Top community that will be their home after the war.

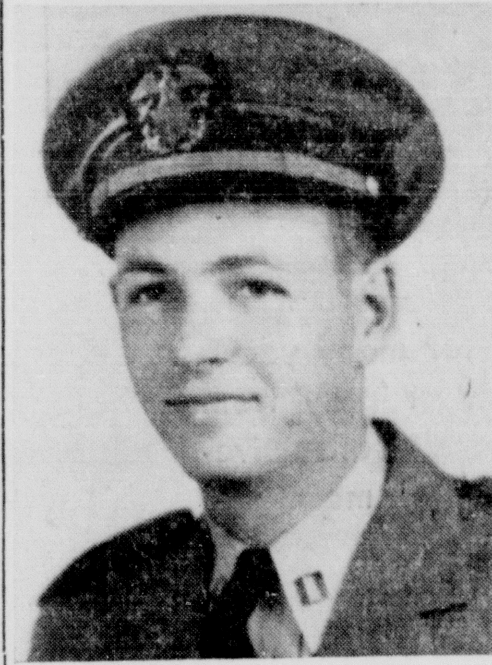

BABY BURIED LAST THURSDAY

James Francis Register, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Register, of Rt. 1, died Wednesday afternoon, May 23, at 5:00 o'clock in Stamford. Graveside services were held in Hamlin East Cemetery at 3:00 o'clock, Thursday afternoon, May 24, with Rev. J. O. Quattlebaum, of Stamford, officiating. Burial was in charge of Kinney Funeral Home of Stamford.

Survivors are the parents, one brother, Fred Jr., and one sister, Ali Dean, two grandmothers, Mrs. A. G. Register of Hamilton and Mrs. J. D. Yeats of Goldthwaite.

Mrs. E. Clyde Smith, of Odessa, was a guest this week in the home of Miss Eleanor Temple.

Lawyer-Rancher Is In Pacific Roundup

LT. (s.g.) W. F. MARTIN
Captain PC Ship in Pacific.

Lieutenant (s.g.) W. F. Martin is another example of how a Texas-Westerner has taken to the big, wide oceans in time of emergency. We think of Lt. Martin as a young kid-like fellow with a wide-brimmed hat, cowboy boots and spur, for his home during his "growing up" was spent for the most part at the beautiful ranch home on the Martin Ranch, 12 miles northwest of Hamlin. However, he spent some time with his parents, the late W. F. Martin, and Mrs. Martin, in Mineral Wells. His mother is making her home this summer in Hamlin, while the Navy son is in the Pacific.

Lieutenant Martin was born in Dallas, Texas, Dec. 21, 1919. He graduated from Abilene High School in 1936, attended McMurry College a few months and entered Texas University, taking a full law course, graduating in 1941. He immediately volunteered for the Navy and was sent to Northwestern University, in Chicago. There, he was commissioned in December 1941, and was soon on the Atlantic and participated in the North African landings.

Later he took extra training in Florida, at which time his mother joined him. His next assignment was in the Pacific. He was placed in command of a PC ship as captain. Recent letters to his mother state that he has been out of contact with the mail service by reason of wide and important movements.

His activities now are Naval secrets but it is clear that this West Texas lawyer-rancher is facing the hot suns, in the greatest round-up of enemies to our country in the history of the world. Martin can fancy his agile ship as a brone and the "spurs" are none other now than the urge to get the job done and return to the beautiful scenes of peace and prosperity of his ranch and to lend comfort and satisfaction to his mother.

MOVE TO HAMLIN

This news item will introduce Fred Williams, who has been a very lone-some man in Hamlin for several months. He has the dealership for the Massey-Harris Tractor and implements in Hamlin and has been trying to get a home for his family. His business is located in the King Garage building. Mr. Williams has purchased the Clarence Bailey place in the southwest part of Hamlin and got possession last week. Last Friday, Mrs. Williams and daughter, Mrs. Ernest Jennings, came up from Hamilton, the old home, and with them was the son, Leonard Williams, of A. & M. College, a former corporal discharged from the famous 78th Lightning Division. He was accompanied by a college friend, Albert Brann. This family is one of several who have come up from Hamilton to make a success in Hamlin.

Talking Picture On Frozen Foods Will Be Shown In Hamlin Friday

Invitations have been extended to approximately 350 homemakers who are using frozen storage lockers in Hamlin and to anyone else interested, to attend a talking picture, "Frozen Foods," at the Ferguson Theatre on Friday afternoon, June 1st, at 3:00 o'clock. The picture, which is filmed in full color, shows detailed preparation of vegetables, fruits and chickens for freezing, and also proper packaging and cooking of frozen foods.

The film was written and produced under the technical direction of the General Electric Consumers Institute, pioneers of the frozen foods industry and recognized as one of the country's foremost authorities on the subject. It has been brought to West Texas by the West Texas Utilities Company as a public service in the interest of the national food preservation program.

The women of this area are in the middle of one of the nation's biggest jobs—to preserve every bit of 1945's food production. Freezing is regarded as one of the finest of all food preservation methods, because it preserves food values in practically their original natural state.

Meat is only one of the many foods that can be preserved in frozen lockers and home freezers. Many fruits and vegetables, including strawberries, peaches, pineapple, berries, peas, spinach, beans and corn are easier and quicker to prepare for freezing than for canning, and the resultant product is more like the original in appearance, flavor and nutritive content.

The picture, "Frozen Foods," runs forty minutes. Miss Eudora Hawkins and Miss Verna Westbrook of the Home Service Department of the West Texas Utilities Company will be present to answer questions, and anyone who is interested in the freezing preparation of foods is invited to attend without charge.

Offered For 17th District Commander

J. R. (Ryland) Gleaton, serving his second year as adjutant of Vernon D. Hart Post, American Legion, Stamford, is being offered by his buddies as a candidate for commander of the 17th District to be elected at the Conference in Breckenridge, June 16 and 17.

Gleaton, who holds a medical discharge from the Navy in the present war, has proven himself to be aggressive, a good organizer and a membership getter of no mean ability.

Gleaton is in a position to give plenty of time to the commander's job, and his buddies in Vernon D. Hart Post are confident that under his leadership the 17th District will continue to be the best district in the Department of Texas.

J. W. Stephens, of near Roby, visited relatives here Tuesday.

Home For A While After Serving In Second Ocean

LT. (j.g.) H. O. CASSLE, JR.

This young Navy Lieutenant is one we like to think of as Hamlin's big, happy, blond Navy man. And right now Lt. (j.g.) H. O. Cassle, Jr. is about the happiest fellow from anybody's two-ocean Navy. Lt. Cassle arrived back in the States about May 15, after several months in the far wide-and-immeasurable Pacific, where he put into practice some of the things he learned in the Atlantic.

However, instead of coming by Hamlin, he hit the skies for Youngstown, Ohio, to see his wife and little son, Freddy. Information is that he is having lots of fun with the bouncing little man, who is the image of his sailor-man Dad. It has not been long since Mrs. Cassle and baby were in Hamlin for a visit.

Lieutenant Cassle is expected to arrive in Hamlin almost any day, now, on his way back to join his famous ship. You see, ships must be brought to port occasionally, even in peace time. (During the finish-fight with Japan, no names are mentioned unless authorized.)

Young Cassle's experience in the Navy is very extensive for the time he has served, and that means from January 1942 to this date. He is a two-ocean officer, and more. He participated in the Normandy landings, and when that job was well done, his ship went with the big force that landed troops and supplies in southern France through the Mediterranean.

H. O. Cassle, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Cassle, Sr., was born in Hamlin in 1916. He finished Hamlin High School and entered Baylor University where he majored in Business Administration, graduating in 1939. He was employed by a lumber company in Wichita Falls, prior to his volunteering for the Navy in 1942. His first rank was Store Keeper 2/c. He was commissioned an Ensign later since Terminal Island, Calif., and was sent to Tuscon, Ariz., for officer training. He also took training at Ft. Scheyler, N. Y., and in Norfolk, Va., and Florida, and again at Norfolk before being assigned to a big, new ship to see foreign duty in April 1944. Before going to sea, H. O. was married in September 1943 to Miss Betty Jane Harbison in Youngstown, Ohio, where the wife and son reside in his absence.

Rev. E. L. Yeats, pastor of the Methodist Church, went to Dallas Thursday to meet his daughter, Miss Helen Yeats, a teacher in Stephens College, Columbia, Mo. Rev. and Mrs. Yeats are also expecting their son, Lt. (j.g.) A. W. Yeats, in from the Atlantic side this week end, and then with their daughter, Mrs. Joe Dick Giddens and children, of Stamford, will complete the reunion, except that Mr. Giddens is away in the Navy.

Mrs. Y. A. McNeill was called to Drumright, Okla., Saturday because of the death of her brother.

With the AAF ENGINEER COMMAND IN ITALY.—Private James T. Carter, of Hamlin, Texas, who has been constructing airfields with the 815th Engineer Aviation Battalion for the past twenty months in the Mediterranean Theater of Operations will soon return to the United States with his veteran unit.

"First all the way" has been the slogan of the 815th Engineers ever since June 1942 when they landed in England, the first American AAF unit on British soil. The first AAF unit ashore again at North Africa and Sicily, they have always been chosen for and have fulfilled completely the toughest assignments. At Licata, Sicily, for instance, after landing on D-Day, they constructed a sorely-needed strip in only 18 hours. (Passed by Military Censor.)

"How's everyone in dear ole Hamlin? I guess they have been happy the last few days. We were really glad to hear the news, too.

"Austria is a very beautiful country, but I'll take Texas any time. The Alps mountains have snow on them all the time. They are really beautiful. I was in Innsbruck the other day. I was also in Ober-Ammergau, the Passion City where the Passion play originated years ago. I saw the man who they said played Christ.

"I guess everyone was really excited when Germany gave up, but it will really be the day when Japan gives up. We will all know then that it won't be too long before we're home.

"Philippine Islands, May 13, 1945

"Well, hello there. I hope this finds everyone there O.K. I am fine.

"This past week has been a very big one for us and our Allies, hasn't it? I was certainly proud to hear of the surrender of those no-good Krauts. Now, for the fall of those little sons of the Rising Sun. I don't think they will last so much longer now, tho'. You never can tell about them.

"This is a day of all days: 'Mother's Day.' I know there are so many mothers who are anxiously awaiting their sons' return. That will be a mighty happy day when we can all be home again.

"Mr. Pope, I want you to send the paper to Mother each week. She will then forward it to me 1st Class. That way I will get the paper much sooner and I won't be so far behind on my home-town news. A lot of the fellows are getting theirs this way. I have been intending to do this for sometime, but 'just never got around to it,' as the old saying goes.

"I just saw 'Dark Waters,' with Merle Oberon and Franchot Tone. It was pretty good. When we have shows (we have 3 a wk.), the Filipinos gather on the outside 3 deep.

"If it isn't too much trouble, I wish you would send me the addresses of some of the Hamlin boys in this theater. Maybe I might get to see someone I know. Quite a few of the boys have run onto boy friends by accident. Nothing like that could happen to me!

"I met a guy the other day by the name of Herring—the first one I've met since being in the Army. He was from Phoenix, Ariz.

"I have a brother who is on his way to this theater. I hope he will be located nearby. It would 'really' be a coincidence.

"I must stop now as I have to write my Mother.

"Very Sincerely, Merrill Herring."

About Soldiers--Sailors

With the DIXIE DIVISION IN MINDANAO—(Spl.)—The 31st Infantry Division battalion of which Pfc. Owen P. Watson, of Hamlin, Texas, is a member, defeated a force of 600 Japs on the Sayre National Highway recently in what was described as "the first meeting engagement in the Pacific war." A meeting engagement is a battle in which two opposing columns marching head-on collide.

Watson's battalion met the enemy just before midnight and the fight raged in the tall cogon grass on either side of the road until dawn when the Japs broke and retreated. The Texas mortar gunner, a former farmer, is the husband of Mrs. Lorene Watson, Rt. 1, Hamlin, and the son of Mrs. W. M. Watson, Rt. 2, Hamlin. (Public Relations Release.)

Billy also sent a sack full of German medals, about all the kinds the Krauts used... and a moderately long, expensive-looking dagger-like thing incased in a scabbard. 'Think on these things'

The Christian Home (CONCLUDED)

CHILDREN AND THE HOME

Parents must accept the duty of training their children in the way that they should go. God has appointed parents to teach children. Parents have the right to call in other agencies, such as the school, to assist in this training, but it remains the duty of the parents to see to it that their children are properly reared in every respect. The righteousness of the next generation depends directly upon this being effectively done. Solomon says: "Train up a child in the way he should go: and when he is old, he will not depart from it." (Prov. 22:6) Paul says: "And, ye fathers, provoke not your children to wrath: but bring them up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord." (Eph. 6:4)

Parents cannot teach their children right without first living right themselves. Too often parents do not lead the way. For example, it is estimated that less than twenty-five percent of the adult membership of the average congregation attends Sunday morning Bible study. No wonder our children go astray and lose interest in the church. If there were fewer prodigal parents, there would be correspondingly fewer prodigal children. Whatever may be wrong with the world today cannot be blamed on the boys and girls under twenty-one years of age. That grave responsibility belongs to fathers, mothers, elders, teachers, preachers, and leaders in general. Someone has said: "Pray for the children who must live in the world which their parents have made for them."

DUTIES OF CHILDREN TO PARENTS

1. Obedience. "Children, obey your parents in the Lord: for this is right." (Eph. 6:1) "Children, obey your parents in all things: for this is well pleasing unto the Lord." (Col. 3:20) The child must ever yield to the superior judgment of the parent, except where the parent contradicts God. Older people generally know best, for they have been taught in the hard school of experience. Jesus set the example for all children when he was a child. "And he went down with them, and came to Nazareth, and was subject unto them: but his mother kept all these sayings in her heart." (Luke 2:51) Children should avoid taking advice which overrules that of their parents, especially from people who have little or no heart interest in them. Parents, at least with rare exceptions, will advise their children to do what they honestly think is best for them.

2. Service. In the very nature of things, every human being should be useful according to his or her capacity. Children should be taught to work. An old Jewish proverb says: "He who does not teach his child to work teaches him to steal." You are doing your child an injustice when you do not require him to regularly do some useful task. Paul, speaking of Timothy, suggests that a child should be a fellow worker. "But ye know the proof of him, that, as a son with the father, he hath served with me in the gospel." (Phil. 2:22) This does not mean that the child is a slave, but a partner in the home. A child should not be requested to work primarily because it is profitable financially, but as an essential part of the child's education. Even if the family is financially independent, that principle still holds true.

3. Honor. "Honour thy father and mother; which is the first commandment with promise; that it may be well with thee, and thou mayest live long on the earth." (Eph. 6:2-3) "Honour" as used in this commandment involves respect, financial support, and personal care where such is necessary. Jesus declares that failure on this point renders worship vain. It was in this connection that he made the oft-quoted statement found in Matt. 15:9. "But in vain they do worship me, teaching for doctrines the commandments of men." Compare this statement with Paul's even stronger language in I Tim. 5:8. "But if any provide not for his own, and specially for those of his own house, he hath denied the faith, and is worse than an infidel." Certainly all that Paul said about widows in general would apply to one's mother specifically.

The American custom of sending aged mothers and fathers to homes for the aged, simply because they do not want to be bothered with them, is a sin of the first magnitude. Homes for the aged are wonderful for those who have no other place to go. In this connection read I Tim. 5.

Some Cautions to Boys and Girls

Boys and girls of today will soon be men and women, married, bearing children and building homes. This is the highest privilege one may have in this life as far as human relations go. More depends on the success of the home than of any other social institution. If the home fails, the nation will perish. Even the church will be helpless wherever the home is a failure.

Young people, do not engage in any conduct that will destroy the respect and confidence upon which a home must be founded. When this boy remembers ugly things that this girl has done, and vice versa, that faith so essential to the home is badly weakened, if not completely destroyed. Drinking, dancing, cheap familiarity, and such like will undermine that mutual confidence so necessary to happiness in the home.

Some Cautions to Parents

Part of the children's training should be designed to enable them to choose clean, Christian husbands and wives. This is the first and basic step toward a Christian home. Frankly, what are you doing to promote the proper social life for your children? Do you merely forbid them to do evil in your house without providing anything good for them to do? Parents should certainly forbid the wrong, yet that is not enough. Parents who fail to provide proper social life for their children are unintentionally promoting the improper. This is true, because such children will simply leave home and do what home does not allow. Commercialized dissipation under the guise of recreation is inviting them in every direction. Such parents often boast, "My children are not allowed to do this and that," when everybody except those parents knows that their children do those very things, but away from home. Wholesome social life must exist if children are to grow up morally pure. Parents, create a real Christian home in which you and your children may live.

Attend the Church of Christ. Bring the whole family.

How women and girls may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain

Cardui is a liquid medicine which many women say has brought relief from the cramp-like agony and nervous strain of functional periodic distress. Here's how it may help:

- 1 Taken like a tonic, it should stimulate appetite, aid digestion, * thus help build resistance for the "time" to come.
- 2 Started 3 days before "your time", it should help relieve pain due to purely functional periodic causes.

Try Cardui. If it helps, you'll be glad you did.

Comment No. 1

They talk of feeding one hundred million people in Western Europe. Well, folks, it may seem a shade inhuman, but why should we feed the rascals when they only will rear another generation to start another war?

We fed the Germans after the last war—and what did we reap? Mr. Hoover made a flying trip to the White House for a talk with the President—regarding starving Europe. If they are not our Allies, we say let them eat worms with the chickens. Germany and Italy robbed other nations to feed their own, and it would be down right silly for the United States to feed them now. Turn all the Germans over to Russia—that's what some of the servicemen returning from over there say. Russia knows what to do with them.

Comment No. 2

Treaties and paper agreements by the Japanese mean nothing as has been proved in the past. Why not turn the "gas" loose on Japan and wipe them out lock, stock and barrel and save the lives of many American boys who are having to dig them out of holes in the ground?

One American life means more than the entire Japanese Empire, and it seems useless to risk the lives of good Americans when the B-29's could pour the gas to the slant-eyed apes and rid the earth of such varmints. After all, gas would get the Japs out of their misery sooner and with less effort on the part of our fighting men.

Soft and chicken-hearted Americans often risk the necks of their own blood because of the Geneva Conference. If treaties are not worth the paper on which they were written (as has been demonstrated) then we say "GAS" the Japs off the face of the earth.

China says the Japs have used gas on them. Let's give it to the Japs.
